Sing-Along/Interactive, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: Eric Gilbert is a worship leader, band director, and arranger at Perimeter Church (PCA) in the Northeast Atlanta suburbs. He is passionate about worship IN the Church and the work OF the Church. Since he has always had trouble writing his own lyrics, he is fond of taking other people's words, which are much better than any he could ever come up with, and putting them to music. So there's a big file of half-finished arrangements on his laptop. And over the course of several years, he's actually finished a few things, some of which are sung at Perimeter Church. He has never done any kids music. But he does have kids...four of them. So at some point one cannot help but be influenced by the environment he finds himself in. Lots of kids learn the Westminster Catechisms. But not a lot of people have put those to music. So if you buy it and listen you'll find 20 questions and answers on 11 tracks (they are actually finished). Hopefully you'll think it's pretty good music. Fun and encouraging for children. And that it's for grown-ups, too.
