Progressive-ambient instrumentals and emotional meditative textures from a virtuoso fretless bassist. 9 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Soundscapes, WORLD: World Fusion Details: "A potential Space Music classic,the music had profound emotional,spiritual, even physical effects on me." Kevin Keller,composer "A new personal favorite,and possibly a space music classic." Lloyd Barde,Owner,Backroads Music "Ancient,Timeless music..contains masterworks on 6 and 12 string fretless basses" Bassinside Magazine "You are on your way towards a musical epiphany." Max Valentino,solo bass artist "Mourning Guests Who Never Arrived" is a meditation/exploration of longing, intimacy and the Veils that divide people from each other as well as the emotional and spiritual dimensions of reality. Scott Kungha Drengsen is a fretless bassist and meditation teacher living in Northern California.On this work(his second) he plays 6 and 12 string fretless basses with realtime looping effects to create music that is ambient and textural as well as deeply immediate and personal.Much of the music is unrecognisable as a bass as he enters a realm of pure sound;a melding of contemplation and improvisation aided on two of the tracks by vocalist NOOR.
