Details: ..the popular music press must have missed out on this musical treasure there is the beauty of fragility broken in these songs. a distinctive talent who should have broken through to wider acclaim. Woven Wheat Whispers "...soft melodies and pithy, world weary lyrics contrasting brilliantly ... the songs sparkle with electricity... recommended as the perfect doorway into a weird and wonderful universe you may recognise as your own. " Terrascope Online "...a cut above many self-made rock stars moments of moving lyrical poetry a surprising strength of vision." Is This Music "...a fantastic prospect ... beautifully layered guitar playing and voice ." Fact Magazine "... It's odd but draws you in, especially beats driven tracks like Red Sky, Forest Fear (Live) and Solid Ground which sound like The Wall-era Pink Floyd in their hypnotic qualities. " Daily Record "... a wonderful, eccentric and heavenly melody maker ...a breath of fresh air with a twist of leftfield beauty.." Matchbox Records
