Folk Rock/Blues - A culmination of life's influences and lives put to song. 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Blues, COUNTRY: Country Rock Details: West of Yesterday is a musical endeavor that combines the lyrical and musical talents of Laurence (Pepi) Capezzzone and Mick Sunter. Sometimes the creation of original music is for commercial purposes, sometimes to satisfy a desire to express oneself, and sometimes for the pure enjoyment of sharing the experience and the passion for song writing. Dancing With Angels is a collection of songs inspired by life's experiences and by life itself. It is the result of crossed paths, and the unselfish contributions of the musicians that participated in the CD. It was during a short lived weekly get together of musicians down at a barely heated boathouse during the winter of 1998 that Laurence and Mick crossed paths and began to travel down a road together towards today. Shortly after that time they became part of a local cover band. Known as Suburban Lawnchair, the group performed throughout southern Connecticut for a period of five years. Laurence played acoustic guitar and was the lead vocalist. Mick played bass and ran the sound system. Shortly after the band retired they began to develop their mutual passion for creating original music. During that time Mick dabbled in recording and eventually went on to establish Lawnchair Productions recording studio. Laurence's (Pepi) talents as a lyricist inspired the effort now known as West of Yesterday, Their debut CD, is a collection of songs that are inspired by life and by lives. Whether its the unpolished vocal track recorded the day after a late night gig, or the smiles in the studio while singing backup to Big Alice, or the crack in a vocal during an emotional recording of Dancing with the Angels, its all meant to be heard. Its all meant to be felt. Its not about perfection.. its about the song, the moment. Its about the roads we travel, what we have at our fingertips at any given time, and an appreciation for life and where it has led to... today. Recorded, mixed and mastered at Lawnchair Productions, Guilford, CT 06437 USA Artists/Friends/Angels that contribute to
