"...echoing aloof screams, psychotic laughter - soundtrack to a soulless madman's dream..." Accursed is a concept propose exploring the nightmares of existence and the horrors of the subconscious. 10 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, ELECTRONIC: Experimental Fragments of a Nightmare Songs Details: 'Disturbed' was the original name of this propose back in 98-99, and was created by Melmoth and myself. The former corporeal consisted mainly of tormenting and tormented vocals, disgusting, discordant sounds, lots of high pitch and low pitch sounds, and some vague power electronics/noise. A year or so later, a disagreement on the course of this propose resulted in its deterioration. Melmoth went on to work on his own proposes, and also built his own sound studio, while I focused on my other propose, 'Obsequies'. It was while working on 'Obsequies' that ideas for how 'Disturbed' should sound corporealized in my mind. After talking to Melmoth and realizing he was not interested, I had decided to rename the propose to its current name and focus on its new course. Early corporeal of 'Accursed' have some vague similarities with what Melmoth and I were doing with the other propose, but it was clear that this was to be a different propose. It was not until 2002 that 'Accursed' took its full form, and thus "Fragments of a Nightmare" was born. To conclude, 'Accursed' is a concept propose revolving around the "Horror" theme for various reasons and various meanings that are not to be discussed herein. This is only the first growl of the beast. There's more to come!
