"TROUBLED TIMES" October 31, 2006 MORE SHOWS COMING SOON! Those on the mailing list hear it first--so sign up today! ***** This artist has been compared to Beck and Coldplay and we can hear some REM references creeping in. Whether its AM or PM this artist deserves some of your time...and he is set to find a new audience in the UK. -The Hit Sheet (UK) Overall, this album demonstrates how great pop can be. AM has a real sense of how to set a chorus, and each one glistens and sparkles with extra instruments, synth pads and hooky guitar lines. With talent like this well surely see AM climb the ranks to the top. -Performing Songwriter ...AM takes equal parts of classic Americana, folk-rock and pop and melts them down into something entirely his own, and he does it with two things money cant buy: imagination and taste. These sturdily built pop songs are graced with ingeniously colorful arrangements and have that instant classic thing stamped all over them... -LA Weekly AM sounds like a mixture of Paul Simon and David Bowie. It rocks but in a beautiful way. -Gary Jules (Trading Snakeoil for Wolftickets/Universal Music) "AM sounds like a cross between Mutations-era Beck and Pete Yorn and like them, he borrows liberally from country and rock, coming up with music that's a little bit different and not easily defined" -West Coast Performer "AMs soothing voice and polished stage presence have a calming effect, even on the rowdiest audience members. His soft rock, blended with a touch of country, connects with anyone..." Music Connection *****BEST SINGER/SONGWRITER OF THE YEAR (LA WEEKLY) 17 song placements from AM's debut album have been placed in film and television, including AMs song Gone Away in the upcoming eighth episode of Tom Hank's HBO original series "Big Love (now airing in the UK on Channel 5 on Monday nights at 10pm), Mainstay and Playing The Game in ABC's "What About Brian?", and the songs "Losing You", "Playing The Game", and "Mainstay" in three seasons of MTVs "The Real World" (including this seasons "The Real World: Key West"). AMs songs can also be heard in the 2006 Sundance Festival film "Dreamland" (with Gina Gershon) and the film "The Naked Ape" which premiered at the 2006 Vail International Film Festival. AM began his musical development surrounded by rock-n-roll but heavily influenced by the indigenous sounds of New Orleans which include country, bluegrass and roots music. Born in Oklahoma and raised in Mandeville, Louisiana, a rural town outside of New Orleans, he grew up playing guitar and listening to Motown, Fleetwood Mac and The Eagles. After graduating from Loyola University in New Orleans with a degree in philosophy, AM moved to Los Angeles where he held a weekly residency at the infamous Hotel Cafe then hosted by musical artist Gary Jules ("Madworld" Universal Music). AM brings a new twist to pop music, following in the footsteps of other less obvious pop icons such as Beck, Wilco, and The Flaming Lips. Above all its AM's uncanny ability for writing perfect acoustic-pop hooks and his soothing voice that really sell this wonderful debut record. From Americana to folk-rock, AMs songs weave multiple variations of the pop medium with the richness of southern sounds. AM has also shared the stage with such notable acts as Gary Jules, G. Love Special Sauce, Bob Mould (Husker Du/ Sugar), Rhett Miller (The Believer/Verve), Amy Correia (Lakeville/Nettwerk), and Glen Tilbrook (former Squeeze songsmith). AM is finishing his second album titled Soul Variations which will be completed soon.

***** Song placements in film and television for AM's album include: HBO's "Big Love", two songs on ABC's "What About Brian", MTV's "Real World", ABC's "Life As We Know It", film sequel to "The Butterfly Effect", indie film "Naked Ape", and the 2006 Sundance Festival film "Dreamland.
