Argo takes their inspiration from the likes of Sea and Cake, Tortoise and Pinback to name but a few. Their "indie" rock sound has gained them a steadily growing audience throughout the northwest. Now Justin, Scott and Matt are joined by Jon Wooster-Bass and Vocals. They have released an E.P. titled "The Fall" in 2003 (with regular airplay on Seattle station KEXP) and are currently promoting their debut full length CD "Jet Packs for Everyone". The Fender Rhodes plays a dominant role in this CD. It should also be mentioned that in a live show setting; you would see these guys trade instruments leaving someone else in command of the keys...pretty cool really. Some of the Seattle venues played include the Crocodile, Graceland, the Sunset, Sit n Spin, the Hideaway and the Mars Bar. Perhaps the best thing about Argo is their commitment to their musical ideas. What you hear in their music is their dedication to each song. This band simply draws its strength from each other. It's easy to see and it's easy to hear. You will find their CD's in the local NW section or perhaps the Rock section of most major music stores. Argo Web Page: argotheband.com
