"Emotional Acoustic rock with straightforward, honest lyrics, easy melodies, and catchy rhythms. Michael doesn't tell you stories, he tells you 'What happened'. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk-Rock, ROCK: Americana Details: Born and raised in Gary, Indiana (South Chicago) Michael's father worked 43 years in the Steel Mills and his Mother was a homemaker. The youngest of five, he grew up listening to all types of music, from Jackson Browne and James Taylor, to ELO, The Police, and Motown. Michael started playing guitar in high school and continued through college into his 20's. During a deployment in the Marine Corps, he started playing at sea with some friends and the next deployment; he brought along a four-track recorder and a microphone. Together with friends, he started recording his first music and some of what you'll hear in his shows is from that time. Michael writes about feelings of the heart, its losses and its hopes. He doesn't tell stories; he tells you 'what happened'. If you're family or a close friend, you already may know the back-stories of some of these songs. However, if you haven't met Michael, then he hopes you can find universal themes throughout the songs: that all of us have loved and lost. Michael says, "In a day where everything is 'reality driven' I don't want to forget or lessen the joy and pain I've had in my life. I express the joy and sadness in this life and I never take a single day for granted." People who are interested in Bruce Springsteen Jackson Browne Train should consider this download.
