Details: This is the second CD from the composer Vctor Estrada. It is an album less eclectic than the first one Lo divino en lo grosero but goes on the same multi-instrumentalist direction with many rhythm and sudden musical changes. The CD contains a long suite, which gives the title to the album, making a musical journey through a lot of musical styles such as symphonic rock, electronic, folk, classical, minimalism and ethnic music. The album ends with an original Christmas song titled Tempus Fugit. Vctor Estrada studied classical guitar, music theory and harmony in the Conservatorio del Liceo of Barcelona, Spain. In the eighties he founded the symphonic rock group Erin, and from that moment on he has performed and recorded with many musical groups deserving special mention his collaboration with the celebrated symphonic rock group Amarok. As a composer, he had premiered a lot of works and published two albums Lo divino en lo grosero (2001) and Continuo despertar (2003).
