Details: Vonda McFarlane is a singer, songwriter, playwright, TV producer/host, and educator from Boston, Massachusetts. The Mansion CD contains full-length preview songs that will be featured (along with many others) in her upcoming gospel musical entitled "Empty Mansion." Having sung in gospel choirs for several years, Vonda began to realize there was much more to her Divine gifts than singing. She recognized that she also had a natural inclination for written expression. In fact, for Vonda, creative writing had become therapeutic. So, her lyrics became a detailed reflection of her innermost feelings resulting from personal experiences that led to conversations, and the building of a relationship with GOD. As time progressed, Vonda began to reflect on previous writings in the order in which they were written, and realized there was a story behind the lyrics. She began to see the broad portrait of the power of God as it changed darkness to light and revealed the true meaning of Divine love. She calls the portrait of her life "Mansion." The "Mansion" project has two components. The first of which is music. The songs contain contemporary and soulful gospel music, with dynamic vocal styling that combines the past with the present. The second component of the "Mansion" project is theatre. The theatric component tells the story behind the lyrics by dramatic depiction. The combination of music and drama brings her to the gospel musical stage play she metaphorically calls "E.M.P.T.Y. Mansion" because it depicts specific trials and tribulations in her life that she calls her "empty mansion" experiences. These were the experiences that God used to help her to see the distinction between the temporal love of the world, and the eternal love of God.
