SOCIAL BOOKMARKS Back links are a vital component of any website's traffic plan. Without back links, a website will have a difficult time ranking for their most important keywords. However, with a proper back link plan in place, a website can shoot to the top of the search engines, even for some remarkably competitive keywords, while generating organic traffic to their websites quickly and easily (and at no cost). However, with a proper back link plan in place, a website can shoot to the top of the search engines, even for some remarkably competitive keywords, while generating organic traffic to their websites quickly and easily (and at no cost). QUALITY and QUANTITY are equally important when building your back-link system, and don't kid yourself, if the search engines are forced to choose between the two (and if you have an equal number of back-links as a competitor in your niche), the "vote" will go for the site with the highest number of quality back-links.
