Details: Bowman and Browns debut CD "Road Trip" is a unique throwback to the popular 70's folk rock genre. Kirt Bowman and Jeff Brown have combined their innovative talents to produce this original body of work combining lyrical storytelling, catchy hooks, ear pleasing harmonies and foot tapping rhythms .

With Bowman's influences of Peter Gabriel and Bruce Cockburn and Brown's influences of CSNY and the Beatles, their collaboration on the production of "Road trip" has resulted in a rebirth of the 70's sound with a fresh perspective. Songs like "The Ballad of J.B. Moore" and "Paranormal Boogie" take you on a mystical journey through the "1912 Villisca, Iowa Axe Murders and the World Famous Haunted Moore House, while " Fool Without a Soul" and "Since U Been Gone" bring you back to earth and the realities of found and lost love. People of all ages have enjoyed "Road Trip" and we're confident you will join Bowman Browns growing fan base.
