Details: In mid 2007, Codebreakers full length album Exiled! was self-released Since then, the group has earned a fine underground reputation amongst crate digging nerds, fussy music critics indie dance party circuits alike. Very few groups can lay claim to that. Their trademark sounds have earned high marks from the Washington Post, Pitchfork, gigs with the likes of Chromeo Yelle to The Twelves, collaborations with Kathy Diamond, Hercules Love Affairs Nomi, french legend Marc Gauvin, with remixes from Miami Horror, Jimmy Edgar Liquid Pegasus on the new imprint, Disco Demolition Records. Well Codebreakers back with a criminally infectious 12 summer single release, Follow Me Follow Me manages to harness the best qualities of italo funk, disco, electro early filter house, all under one roof So much so, that it grabbed the attention of The Juan MacLean (DFA/NYC), Bottin (Italians Do It Better/Venice) The Outrunners (Valerie/FR) for remixing duties. The groups brainchild/frontman Steven Hawley describes the single, Shamelessly anthem-ic, warmly futurist, exciting magical. Codebreaker brings it live with a fierce funky 4 piece band, and they bring it strong. Its all killer, no filler, the shortest of attention spans become engaged the party gets peaked. Those who were fortunate enough to catch one of their SXSW showcases this last March, can attest to it. Having previously shared the stage with the likes of Hot Chip, Phoenix, Chromeo, Outhud, VHS Or Beta Datarock (among others) the group has been taking its show on the road - most recently playing at clubs such as the Mezzanine in San Francisco and the 9:30 Club in Washington, D.C. With Follow Me dropping in May, a whole host of collaborations, remixes from for some of dance musics most exciting, tasteful artists soon on the way, Codebreaker are leading the way in 2009. Follow them.
