Csupo was born in 1952 in Budapest, Hungary, and received his animation education at Hungary's famed Pannonia studio. Leaving Hungary for political reasons in 1975, he demonstrated his love for music by leaving all his belongings behind when he left the country -- except his collection of 500 record albums! Csupo went to Stockholm where he helped produce Sweden's first animated feature and met his future partner, American graphic designer Arlene Klasky. Together they formed Klasky Csupo, Inc., in 1981. Csupo remained interested in music and continued to grow as a musician while achieving unparalleled success, worldwide recognition and critical acclaim with animated television programs, titles and trailers and commercials for Klasky Csupo, Inc. He formed Tone Casualties in 1994 to push the envelope of conventional music and showcase eclectic and experimental music. Tone Casualties has released artists ranging from Paul Schutze, cEVIN Key to Holger Czukay, Peter Hammill and Roger Eno to Mark Mothersbaugh. Csupo himself, who has released five critically acclaimed CDs through Tone Casualties, a collaboration with the avant-garde Accidental Orchestra and his three solo recordings Zombient Music, Liquid Fire and Kalmopyrin. Now he is releasing his latest effort Gabor Csupo's Field Trip "Wrong Planet" 16 tracks that span the world of electronic , rock, ambient, world and avant dance. Csupo said. "I love the way technology, electronics and music have converged" These tracks explore many sounds and music incorporating his unique musical vision.
