Acoustic Details: Although Jason Ramsey is young, his music is distinctively mature and original. Growing up as the youngest of 5 children, Jason was exposed to many different styles of music, which he now draws much his inspiration from. He has managed to fuse his varied musical background to create a fusion of jazz, acoustic rock, and even some blues. Even more addictive than his unique music style are his soulfully crafted lyrics and his strong and clean voice that draws the listener into his world as he spins his own web of pleasant sound. Jason has only been playing the guitar since college about 4 years ago when his roommate inspired him to learn. Once he started playing, writing, performing songs, he was hooked and sought to play at every open mic night he could find. Currently living in Los Angeles, Ramsey can be seen all around the Los Angeles area playing at various venues where he captivates the audience with his stage presence. Even when he is covering songs by his favorite bands, he adds his distinctive style and flair to the music. -Nathan Chang The Discerning Ear
