Dinosaur babies, sweet songs, even a lullaby or two, with hardly a carnivore in sight. That's what it's all about- dinosaurs didn't spend all their time fighting. They lived long lives of up to 100 years, surely a peaceful existence. That's Ron, The Dino-guy Schmidtling's opinion. He says, "Like elephants, who are just too big for a lion to eat, the larger dinosaurs probably had no real predators, and lived long lives munching on ferns and pine needles." People who are interested in R.E.M. The Wiggles John Mayer should consider this download.
