Contemporary, upbeat, fun-to-sing songs that reflect a sense of hope and vision that begins with young people, but includes people of all ages, backgrounds, and creeds. Calypso, soft rock, swing, beautiful harmonies, soul - this one's got it all. 10 MP3 Songs KIDS/FAMILY: General Children's Music, KIDS/FAMILY: Educational Show all album songs: We are the Future Songs Details: We are the Future is a collection of 10 upbeat fun-to-sing original songs by Sharon Joy that reflect a sense of hope and vision that begins with young people, but includes people of all ages, races, creeds, nationalities and religious affiliations. The songs promote a positive view of the world, a commitment to personal responsibility for our environment and society, and an attitude of hope that we can celebrate our differences and work together for a better world. The beautiful vocals are performed by FUTURE!, a talented ensemble of multi-ethnic teens who embody the high ideals that the music promotes. The album features heart-warming JoySounds favorites and award-winning songs What Can I Do, Your Own Song, and We are the Future. These songs have been used in schools, multi-cultural festivals, families, camps, religious centers, and homes with great success. The recording sessions brought together youth and musicians from many backgrounds. The sessions were filled with a level of love that permeates the music. For the montage at the beginning of Your Own Song, a world percussionist brought drums from all over the world. As each new instrument was pulled from the treasure bag, a sense of inclusiveness and world community grew. California musician and recording wizard Rom Rosenblum created the montage that blends these distinct sounds from all over the globe. Give Back was written on an airplane during the moments that the first Gulf War began. I wanted a sweet Ode to the Planet Earth, but this urgent plea came out instead, somewhere over Arizona. I was on my way from Houston to Oakland for a recording session. When the plane landed to pick up passengers in Denver I jokingly asked if a war had started yet and was told quite seriously that it had just begun. He Neh Mah Tov is a ubiquitous Hebrew folk song based upon Psalm 133. There are several well-known tunes to this song. I wanted to create an English version of the song to spread its simple, yet profound message. How Good and How Pleasant is the result. What Can I Do has probably been sung more than any other song on this album. It has been used at peace gatherings, school programs, graduation ceremonies, and international conferences. Shawnee Press has published a choral arrangement to facilitate performances by childrens choirs. It, too, carries a simple, yet profound message. Are we doing all we can to help the world?
