Terrys ultimate mission is to tell as many people about Christ as God will allow him to reach. With the spiritual covering, guidance and influence of his mother's ministry, and the godly nurturing of his father and older siblings, Terry's groomed his talents with a growing understanding of the importance of God's anointing in his life and singing and the need to always give reverence to the power of God. By witnessing a God-fearing, faith-believing example in his own parents, Terry unceasingly is thankful for them for graciously molding and shaping him into a spirit-lead music vessel capable of leading God's people into the presence of the Lord in praise and worship. At the age of seventeen, he joined the United States Army serving proudly for seven years. This service covers various assignments including time served in the Persian Gulf War. His last tour of duty was with the 24th Infantry Division, Fort Stewart, Georgia where he currently resides now with his family. He is married to the lovely Jennie Newsome and they have two adorable sons, Tarence Jeray, age 16, and 11 year old Kyle DeVonte. He completed his first project in the fall of 2002 entitled Praiz Him. Terry wrote and arranged this project. He was nominated for best new artist by WSOK radio for this work. He appears on a compilation album called Men of Valor which features six new artists. He is currently working on his new album entitled Soul Music. This is definitely his best work. Terry defines the album in the lyrics of the title song Soul Music- music that breaks yokes and inspired by the Holy Ghost. The double CD will be completed and released in late 2005. The album will consist of nineteen anointed tracks that will bless your soul! Terrys mission statement states: No matter what youve done or your situation, you can be restored, made clean, redeemed. Be Blessed! PRESS REVIEWS: Sampson native wins Christian recording contract The Sampson Independent For the second time in July, a native of Sampson County has achieved the coveted trophy many musicians strive for: a recording contract. Advertisement Sampson native wins Christian recording contract (July 30, 2005) By Luis Torres Staff Intern For the second time in July, a native of Sampson County has achieved the coveted trophy many musicians strive for: a recording contract. Terry Ray Newsome, 36, formerly of Faison, was awarded a national recording contract at a Christian Artists Talent Search in Charlotte. This contract is with Point of Grace Entertainment, a company that is distributed by Sony-Red Distribution. Sony-Red is an organization located in Ervin, Texas. Newsome moved to Georgia in 1994. Newsome said that a year later, in 1995, he began to write and record music. His three-track single, "Gotta Be You," was the piece that won him a spot on the Christian Artist Talent Search, the national event that he triumphed at on Friday, July 22. Newsome stated that his wife submitted his single in secret, and he was pleasantly surprised when he received a message notifying him that he was chosen as a finalist. Over a thousand people from all over the nation (and outside of the United States as well) applied, but there were only sixty-four finalists chosen. The event was held at Charlotte, NC, and lasted for a week before the winner was named. Newsome is delighted to be the winner of what he called a Christian version of American Idol. The Christian Artist Talent Search is ran by Inspirational Network, a national organization that has its own television channel. Newsome said that it was an appealing event to compete in for musicians all over the world, and he was blessed to get the chance to participate. "God gave me some good stuff," said Newsome of his musical talent. Newsome, who specializes in gospel music but says he also adds rock and jazz into his songs, is currently putting the finishing touches on his full-length album titled "Soul Music," which should be finished by next month. He began recording it at the end of 2003, and the 19-track piece is getting closer and closer to completion. It will be put out by Point of Grace Entertainment, the label he won the contract with at the Charlotte competition. Newsome currently resides in Hinesville, Georgia, a town that is located near Savannah. He lives with his wife, Jennie Lynn Newsome (also a Sampson County native - she was born in Newton Grove). Newsome also has two sons; Tarence (also known as T.J.) is 16 and his brother, Kyle, is 12. Newsome is the son of Claudie Newsome (who still resides in Sampson County) and the late Ammie Newsome of Faison.
