a erosive roller coaster ride into to the depths of observational great metal 14 MP3 Songs Metal Industrial Metallic Metal Alternative Metal Ack! Songs Details: "a malaised, scalding cacophony" "To really enjoy this CD, you must be looking for something totally different. This isn't metal, industrial, noise, death, technical, or just observational. This is all of those combined into one CD, track, sound, and mentality. The music twists from techno beats to black metal guitaring to melodic doom, to goth industrial electronica. Very interesting." - ADRENALIN FANZINE ACK! is an observational project/band created in 2001 that seeks to destroy the boundaries of "normal" great metal. influences range from today is the day, to neurosis, to ministry to the melvins, beck and butthole surfers. the songs on this cd range from all out thrash metal (spank) to emotionally dismembered, frightening soundscapes (exits), from odd mathematically inspired ambient electronic music (contact), to the doom-laden bouts of psychotic anger (devouring the lamb). created for the sake of art and the interest of exploration into uncharted territory unbounded by genre classifications and mainstream notions of 'good' art -
