14 talented underground San Francisco artists join a man with tremendous presence, supporting his soaring melodies and rich baritone voice with a melange of dark rock n' roll that you can't avoid. 12 MP3 Songs ROCK: Modern Rock, ROCK: Folk Rock Details: Released on Last Stop Records in 2003, Lveo's debut album, "Bobomagic lveo" sold out of it's first press upon its release and was nominated for top 10 album of the year in New York's Village Voice. The album has been distributed to Canada, New Zealand, Ireland and Budapest and has had continuous airplay on KALX, KZSU, KUSF, KPOO, KDRT, Pirate Cat Radio and Live 365's Good People Radio. Lveo has performed live on-air for KZSU's Press Release and Sixth Degree's show on KUSF. The band will begin recording a second album this fall. The Band Lveo delivers a melange of haunting baritone tales blended with rich, "sonic dissonance." It has been suggested that the music of Lveo is like that of Centro-Matic, Jeff Buckley, Tool, Radio Head, and Red House Painters. The band, Lveo, consists of two key contributors. The drumming of Eric Davis is unorthodox, yet thoughtful; driving each song from tranquility then pushing the dynamics into swells of madness. The voice of Magic is haunting and captivating; his guitar droning a-tonal. They will bring you from lullaby to chaos and back. This is what Lveo does best. Lveo has performed at number of formidable Bay Area Venues including Cafe Du Nord, The Hotel Utah, Thee Parkside, Last Day Saloon, UC Davis' Mondavi Center, The Park SF, Beale Street Bar and Grill, JJ Schultz's Beer Drinkin' Acoustic, Cloudview Lane, The ICAN Gallery, Studio 352, as well as San Francisco's Civic Center Plaza.
