A great batch of effortless, melodic, guitar pop gems. Think along the lines of the Replacements Buffalo Tom, and NRBQ 12 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Americana Details: BUZZ ZEEMER Frank Brown-Vocals,Guitars Tommy Conwell-Guitars Dave McElroy-Bass Gordon Townsend-Drums Produced by Frank Brown,Paul Sinclair and Paul Hammond "Frank Brown,the songwriter of Buzz Zeemer,owns a special place among area talents who deserve wider recognition.For nearly a decade,he's improved steadily,honing a personal approach and writing songs far more sophisticated than those of like minded major-label bands.The wry Delusions finds him still plugging away.It's got crisp rock laments,astringent Elvis Costello pop hooks.forays into pure 60's pop,and a few of those galvanizing moments when blind fury cystallizes into something that sounds like wisdom." Tom Moon-Philadelphia Inquirer 1/99 "Another Buzz Zeemer album,another enticing bunch of songs catchier than anything on the radio." Dan DeLuca-Philadelphia Inquirer 12/98 "I'm not sure these guys are delusional;this is a grand record." Rick Cornell-Amplifier Summer '99 "Buzz Zeemer's new record,Delusions of Grandeur,is a subversively brilliant pop-rock record...Brown's innate gift for melody is surpassed by spare lyrics that reveal layers of meaning and emotion not apparent on first listen" Phil Sheridan-No Depression 7/99
