A combination of folk rock, bluegrass, and blues, this album will draw listeners into its world of catchy choruses and hypnotic arrangements where distinct pictures are painted by the lyrics and brought to life by the music. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, ROCK: Rockabilly Details: A combination of folk rock, bluegrass, and blues, this album will draw listeners into its world of catchy choruses and hypnotic arrangements where distinct pictures are painted by the lyrics and brought to life by the music. And these lyrical pictures explore everything from the age-old conflict of man vs. nature in Pour - It's the rain that is falling / I won't run anymore / For all I care it can pour - to questioning mortality in Left Behind - They say blessed is he who forgets / Well I tried / But I think he who's left standing / Gets left behind - to falling in love in So Goodnight - I close my eyes, you turn away / We both feel the words we can't say / So goodnight. Of course, along the way are a myriad of other thoughts and emotions that weave the album together into a journey that listeners will want to experience again and again.
