A variety of new mellow music good for calming the mind along with upbeat compositions to break the monotony. 14 MP3 Songs URBAN/R&B: Contemporary urban, URBAN/R&B: Rhythm Blues Details: Patrick L. Simpson is one man that has survived the rough times by the will of God and the sound of music. Though I'm not an accomplished musician, my love for music has driven me to make it anyway I can. Thank God for digital studios and their memory chips. Through sweat and tears, Patrick Simpson and P C Recording are one and the same. P C Recording Studio was built by my own hands and as a result of my desire to have a career in music. My interest is not in being "the man in the spotlight" but moreso of being a part of those that are talented enough to make it into that spotlight. To create music and to be a part of those making music heard around the world is my dream. Making a living doing what you love should be everyone's dream. You can be certain that even if this CD doesn't make the right connections, I'm going to keep on making music until I get it right. Thank you in advance for your time spent listening to my CD. The CD "Listen", is put together demo style that contains house, modern jazz, rap, r&b, and electronica. This CD also includes a song entitled, "The Letter" - something you may need to give someone that you can't be with anymore for moral reasons. All parts in this song were performed entirely by me via vocal transformer. Warning!! The song entitled, "Hit you with a 69", although edited, may be considered explicit. If you like good clean hip-hop/rap music with a creative story line that everyone can listen to young and old alike, please listen to my CD "Project Cant Stop Me".
