CRITICS REVIEWS: "The Boston band Walk Don't Run has written a CD full of songs I want to learn the lyrics to so I can sing along. The word I kept writing as I listened to Two Minutes Fifty was fun. This music is a lot of fun." (Jennifer Layton, Indie-Music.com) "Rock, country, blues? Who cares, it kicks butt. Very good use of genre-blending" (DownEast Reviews) "This band should move to Nashville. They have what it takes to make it big in a country music setting. This CD does not necessarily have a 'twangy' country sound but it would do better in a community that has a large promotional opportunity for country music...the mix of musical talent is fantastic...3 out of 4 stars." (Kelly Riddle, Boston Soundcheck Magazine) INTERNET TOP 40 HITS: "You're not supposed to be with me" was song #20 on the pop charts at peer review site garagebandwinter 1999 based anonymous reviews, out of 1,500+ songs.
