A few years ago, after spending 10 years in bluegrass, He was performing at an RV rally in central Indiana. He had been asked to perform some Hank Williams songs. He met Terri Lisa, also a very talented country

Randy and Karen Shilling love country music, and particularly, Hank Williams. They asked if David had ever thought of doing a Hank Williams tribute album. "You sound more like Hank, than anyone we've ever heard."

There were many Hank Williams fans, as well as Mary Wallace, director of the fan club, and officials from both museums were present. Also present were Hank's sister, Leila, Jack Green, Stonewall Jackson, as well as other local celebrities. It was here that he met legendary steel guitarist, Don Helms, who is credited with the 'sound' of Hank Williams. This was Don Helms' first time at the Memorial, and he agreed to play with David, using the same steel guitar that he used when playing with Hank. They received several standing ovations and many told David afterwards that it was the best tribute show they had ever seen. Mary Wallace told us, "I've heard them all and David is the best!"
