Mindfulness Simple, allows those that are beginning to focus on one aspect of awareness at a time. Mindfulness Integrative, allows the listener to begin to track how physical sensations, emotions and thinking patterns are interacting. Support in the Chair can be helpful to those who don't feel supported in their lives and for those who just want to take a relaxing break in their day. As a Body Centered Psychotherapist I have used these tools in my office for years. Often my clients were unable to sustain practice of somatic resourcing activities on their own. This CD provides people with a guided tool to practice these exercises in their daily lives. These tools can also be helpful to people that are not in psychotherapy but are trying to increase their Self awareness and practice self soothing techniques.
