Six Dimensions was the start of his Indie-Soul revolution and a natural progression for Dexter after years of piano and voice lessons. RocketLove34 which Dexter wrote, composed, performed and produced will secure his place as an innovator in the Alternative Soul genre. Upon graduating from Howard University, Dexter found himself on the road less traveled. There was family pressure to become the first lawyer and a stint in Corporate America. However, music was always his constant craving. My dad always tried to persuade me to become a lawyer and write my own ticket. I worked for a law firm for six months and it was like dying a slow death. Although a career in Advertising was a better match, it was founding Brown Ambition Worldwide that was a life altering moment. I couldnt get an acceptable major label deal so I had no choice but to do it myself. Now I have total creative freedom and I get to apply those valuable corporate life lessons to managing my music career. By embracing the digital revolution, Dexter is selling CDs and downloads while developing fans all over the world. Its an amazing feeling when people all over the world surf onto my sites and share their thoughts about my music. It just validates my decision to follow my own path come what may. With a growing buzz and infinite possibilities, Dexter is ready to soar.
