Fresh Air is a way of being, a mind state. Fresh Air calls on the listener to expand the realm of their thinking, to take action to be a positive force for society and the world. Comprised of three young men who grew up exposed to vastly different parts of America they have all found hip hop as a common, bonding force. Khalil lead emcee and producer, Fudge 1 Infinite (emcee), and DJ Frank(E) look to enlighten people with their collective perspective and experiences. The group is building the "bridge" so that all people on both sides of hip hop, America, and the world may find their common bond and realize that no matter how different we may seem to each other we still breathe. Press Reviews Review by DJ-Aski Jointz Magazine Fresh Air is one of those groups with enlightening lyrics and solid production. This is a group that I predict will make a lot of noise in the future and will be one of the many groundbreaking groups to breathe new life into this thing called hip-hop. Review by Toph One XLR8R Magazine These cats have something to say, know how to say it, possess some serious production skills, and even the label knows how to master and press the damn thing. Review by Scott Sterling URB Magazine Its obvious that Fresh Air have a real love for hip-hop. With thick hypnotic grooves reminiscent of Native Tongues at their coolest, [they] keep it righteous on the microphones, with uplifting and insightful lyricism. Quote by Anthony Valadez Tables of Content Radio 1/2 teaspoon of Pete Rock, 1 ounce of Brother J of X Clan, and a couple drops of Kweli and you got yourself a nice serving of FRESH AIR!! I really dont know why Im comparing these cats. Fresh Air takes me back to 92 yet still sounding fresh and new. The unsung heroes of hip hop!
