Funny acoustic rock and banjo musings. 18 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk Pop, POP: Quirky Details: Wayne Faust has 27 years of experience entertaining people from all over the world - performing regularly at such prestigious spots as Sloppy Joe's in Key West, Tiffany's at Beaver Run in Breckenridge, Colorado, and in England and Holland. His original songs are heard on the radio in places as far away as Australia. Both as a solo performer and as a member of the comedy-music duo Faust Lewis, Wayne has done over 5000 shows. His live show can turn any evening into a party - a night full of great music, comedy, and improvisation. And most of all, fun. Lots of fun. And now Wayne has put the most popular songs from his shows over the years on one 18-song CD called "The Good Stuff." This aptly-titled CD has it all - funny parodies and original novelty tunes, live banjo songs, and some of Wayne's award-winning ballads. This guy truly has a knack for writing lyrics. "The Good Stuff" contains nearly one hour of music and will keep you laughing and listening over and over again. Wayne's latest CD, "Kid With A Guitar" contains all-new recordings of 2 Faust Lewis favorites, "Bald Guys" and "Save the Beer" as well as Wayne's hilarious "Really Dumb Deer," which is a 'Swedish Guy tries to rap' song, and 7 more great cuts, featuring more comedy music, some excellent, lyrical ballads, and a traditional banjo song.
