They document the idea of a direct pathway from the Beethoven-influenced-Liszt on to Debussy, Bartok, Schoenberg, Ligeti, Stockhausen, and certain features of mid-20th century jazz. My abiding affection for Liszt's personality and work began with my early reading of his fantastic life story which I was intoxicated as I was with his music (especially those remarkable (Ruth Slenczynska Decca recordings from the 1950's, all of which should be reissued)! His legendary life led me to an idealized-heroic lifestyle of my own wherein I too would dedicate myself to the pursuit of the true, the noble, the new, and the beautiful in music. Ron Thomas Vectordisc 004 Ron Thomas can be heard on the following Vectordisc CDs as a leader (Scenes from a Voyage to Arcturus, The House of Counted Days and Cycles). Also, Ron appears as a sideman on The Mike Falcone Quartet "Playing Live", Richard Burton's "Simple Major/Simple Minor" and Kristin Garson's "Music Under the Influence".
