Dear Friend, Let's be honest with each other: All of us will, at some point, face some of the following situations sooner or later: Bills to pay by the end of the month Additional school fees for your kid's education in college Medical bills for your parent's sudden illness Extra cash to pay for the increase gas price for your car We call the above situations the "unexpected". Sometimes you wonder when will you be earning enough to pay for all the "unexpected". Yes, you may have savings catered for them but don't depend on your savings too much because savings can get emptied FAST. I hate it when I have to pay more than my monthly budget. Even if I set aside extra cash for the "unexpected", the "unexpected" amount seems to be MORE than what I had planned for.
