By 5 I was playing "Love Me Do" on the Hohner Harmonica.I called myself "Hunky Bozo" and would read books to my Uncles for 5 cents a book. My version of "I'm a Little Teapot" was my beginning of doing sing-a-longs. My voice is a cross between Big Bird and John Denver and "Live" performances are my specialty.I invites audiences to participate and improvise their own words too. "The Puppy Song" was written for my niece Savannah and it is pure emotion for living. A gift for all. "Going Down The Track" was written for her brother Joey, a real talent. Share these songs with your children before they get stomped on by the commercial radio scene. Play them in your car or at the park after school. Keep making up songs about your own family and record them. Then I'll be listening to your CD someday. Reading about your fantastic life and times. Share in your dream of painting the world the color of music. Floating away on your every word. Thanks for buying my CD and keeping my career alive.

I'll share the blessings. Love John Douglas Hurbon
