Details: Water Whispers is an excellent quality album containing a positive richness in production. The atmosphere produced on all the tracks is incredibly spacious they contain many beautiful natural sounds. The music is warm melodic, with a wonderful air of fantasy, hope, romance nature. As featured on BBC Radio of which the public responses have been critically regarded as overwhelming. The album has enjoyed large sales in the UK Europe since its first release in 1997 This compact disc includes Josephs highly evocative interpretation of Elgars Nimrod with its haunting sounds from the sea, and also his warm melodically beautiful title track Water Whispers with its incredible air of fantasy nature combined. Joseph was born in Central England and was raised in a family of musicians, where he received some classical training as an infant. During his teens he played piano/guitar and although piano was his main instrument, he showed an adaptability and understanding for many other instruments, especially orchestral. In the mid to late 1980s he put together a series of projects of which he wrote and produced the music for. These varied from a strong classical rock influence eventually through to large pop productions. During the 1990s, Joseph became involved in various conservation groups and especially produced some new work to help fund a marine life rescue project. Unfortunately as a result of political pressure this particular group had to close. However, this had a profound influence on Josephs next project "Water Whispers" which is an accumulation of visionary works which deeply reflects this period in the Composers life. The Album is a musical out pouring of the deep passion and spiritual experiences felt by the Composer, toward these magnificent and sensitive mammals. Today Joseph is working on a long term project of orchestral works for a new album.
