Details: A long, long, time ago, in a place called junior high school, I would often fall into an accidental meditation ... " Sam ! Sam ! ... are you awake? the teacher interrupted. " Please pay attention to class." " Sorry, I was day-dreaming" , I replied. "Perhaps you would like to share your daydream with the rest of the class", she snapped. Well, a lot of years have gone by since then, but yeah... I would like to share that daydream with everyone. YOU SEE, I WAS PERFORMING THIS CONCERT, ON STAGE IN FRONT OF THOUSANDS OF ADORING FANS AND ACCIDENTAL MEDITATION / a daydream performance by Sam Conjerti - Accidental Meditations (a daydream performance)- Review By Bob Silvestri bobsilvestri@bestofwny Narrative singer songwriter Sam Conjerti from Lockport, NY has released a CD titled Accidental Meditations (a daydream performance), a faux live performance with simulated crowd response between songs that place you in his daydream. With a distinctive timbre to his voice, Conjerti's music falls into a Byrds/Dylan sound at times. Highlights on the disc include "Two Heart Reunion", the pleasant sound of "Alabama Woman", "The Girl In My Dream", "Is It I'm A Fool For You" and the piano ballad "Now I'm Awake" and "It's Not Too Late".
