hot wild style, midwest with some down south flava featuring Kenoe, Michael "5000" Watts, Keith Washington and many more. 12 MP3 Songs HIP HOP/RAP: Southern Style, HIP HOP/RAP: Rap Details: Stayin Hi Records was founded in 1994 by Roscoe Kellam A.K.A. Sco. This pioneer of rap music has been in the industry since the age of 14. During his career, he has released ten albums independently pushing an impressive 40,000 units hand to hand. Although he is originally from Pontiac, Michigan, the fan base ranges from Midwestern states such as Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and all the way down south to Mississippi, Georgia and Texas. This hip-hop phenomenon's talent and energy far surpasses that of the average rapper. The history begins in 1994 when Sco teamed up with his long-time friend Melo to release, All bizzness. Although it was the first album, it sold quite a few records. The second album launched was called Life in the Yac. It sold a massive number throughout the Midwest. In 1997, a hot single titled In the Ghetto, that featured the Frizzo Crew, put him on the map. Furthermore, originator dropped Pimp in the Yac that sold thousands of copies which gave him mad exposure through the states. Later in the years, Sco was managed by Harmony Entertainment in West Virginia. After six months of tutelage, he returned to his hometown to pursue his love for rap. By 2000, the lyricist was holding his own fan base and dropping albums back to back such as Anotha Day Anotha Dolla, Networkin, Greatest Hits Volume 1, and Gutta Freestyle Mix-Tape. In 2003, he made some real noise when he dropped the first group album titled Stayin Hi Boys Sh03, which landed him a distribution deal with RND Distribution based in Houston, Texas. Sco has become the biggest name in the rap game. The sing-along hooks and head bobbin beats are out of control. His motivation comes from the hunger of making it in the industry and getting recognition for the hard work and struggle. According to Sco, "I always say never give up, crawl' til you ball. " It has been a challenging journey, but he's determined to achieve his dreams. To add to his accomplishments, the hip-hop king has been featured in many popular hip-hop magazines such as the Murder Dog, Downlow, The Interscope Promoter, Ozone, Rap Fanatic and more. The new album "I can do this," is true fire and is ready to break in the industry. selling like hot cakes in japan,germany and france. The featured guests on the album include celebrities, Michael "5000" Watts from Swishahouse Records/Warner Brothers, Inc., multi-platinum producer and artist Kenoe from Koch Records/Laboratory Recordz, and the legendary R&B singer, songwriter, and producer Keith Washington get ringtons at ingrooves.com
