Details: Many traditional DJs have found trouble finding their niche in the post-house era. The sometimes painful sight of a one-man band with two turntables and a microphone has become so cliché as to beg for innovation in recent years. This is what makes Shadow Fax so refreshing to fans and critics alike. Led by front man Jason Rivers, Shadow Fax is the product of the most technologically advanced electronic instruments, the latest in music software, analog synths, midi controllers, and a many a late night mixing tracks in his home studio. The final product is a very contemporary blend of songs that has been described as electronic, down-tempo, and experimental. Often it blurs the lines between these and other genres. All material performed and recorded by Shadow Fax is solely written, performed and produced by Rivers. You will find no remixes, samples or 30 year old vinyls on the stage when Shadow Fax performs. Such originality is rare these days in the digital DJ scene. Although Rivers plays many instruments, it is the modern equipment and software that allows him to extract and blend sounds that can be found nowhere else. Rivers has a storied musical background, including being a founding member of the alt-rock outfit Transport, which enjoyed considerable success. However, Rivers felt there were more walls that needed to be razed. "I had to destroy main stream rock and roll in order to save myself...I simply got bored. Luckily for us, Rivers has parlayed his boredom into infectious beats and magnetic songs that often send a welcome swell through your entire body. Shadow Fax has consistently added to its loyal fan base from the start. Word quickly spread about live performances, which often include digital effects and visuals. Shadow Fax capitalized on this early success with the release of Chemical Resort in 2008 (Released under the Aurora.Eos label which was co-founded by Rivers in 2004). This promising 1st release has been received enthusiastically by critics and fans. Shadow Fax is currently juggling a heavy touring schedule in support of the release with more studio time.
