Heavy/Funny, Pop-rock, Eclectic genre, presenting meaningful, thought-provoking ideas, with emphasis on comedy. 30 MP3 Songs ROCK: Psychedelic, POP: with Live-band Production Details: Brute Force, documented international cult-figure, censored by Capitol and EMI, produced on Apple by George Harrison, passionately advocated by John Lennon, abandoned by Columbia/Sony, (I, Brute Force, Confections of Love), is alive and performing seeks new members for Brute's Force. See brutesforce.com. As written by Irwin Chusid: "Brute Force is a trippy cosmic cowboy, wielding a flower-packed shotgun at hanging judges with dour mugs. It was a delight having him on my WFMU program because he delivered what I expected -- the paradoxically unpredictable. One never knows where Brute's mind will wander next -- and whether his mouth will follow. He is wise and perceptive, yet simultaneously guileless. An arrested adolescent who knows right from wrong, but convinces you that up is down, and vice-versa. A Dali-esque clown, a borderline outsider, the last beatnik. He's written some classic pop songs, and fought the good fight for creative expression and free thought. I question Brute's sanity -- even as he makes me question my own. He might not be playing with a full deck -- but the ones he's got are all wild cards." 2004 on tour in UK with Misty's Big Adventure 9 piece band, with return to Truck Music Festival. _____
