Seven perfect power pop jems from an alternative rock band that isn't afraid to snag you by wielding a mean hook. 7 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, ROCK: Modern Rock Details: Wait Until Dusk is: Sean guitar, vocals Kevin bass, vocals Chris drums, vocals Sean: Sean started Wait Until Dusk back in 2003, but it wasn't until Chris and then Kevin started playing with him that the band started to solidify itself as the phenomenal musical force to be reckoned with that it is today. This would take place in the early part of 2006. Before Wait Until Dusk Sean had played in an Albany band in the mid 90's called Moo. It was a guitar driven alternative pop rock band with thumping bass, rocking drums, and dreamy synth parts. Learning from his mistakes when he started Wait Until Dusk he formed a guitar driven alternative pop rock band with thumping bass, and rocking drums. Sean once gave five dollars to a homeless guy and then made the poor fella wash his car. Sean likes to play Rock Paper Scissors. The name Sean is of Irish origin. A variant of John (Hebrew), from the French Jean. Spread outside of Ireland only in the 20th century. Occasionally used in hyphenated names. Kevin: The Professor, as we like to call him is the newest member of Wait Until Dusk. So that means he has to carry all the gear until we add someone new. The funny part is that we haven't told him is that we're not going to be adding anyone new. Kevin joined the band in the early part of 2006 and like giving a starving man a Big Mac he fed the musical soul of this band and allowed it to not only continue on, but to thrive and grow. What we have today is a band that eats, drinks, and rocks together like you've never seen. You can see it at the shows, and you can definitely feel it deep down in your bones when that rhythm section lets you have it with both barrels. They're in sync ladies and gents and Kevin is the backbone to the backbeat that Chris provides. It lives, it grows, it moves. Before joining Wait Until Dusk Kevin was a recognizable staple of the Albany music scene having most recently played with Albany faves North Allen. When Kevin was a kid he had a rock collection and he wanted to be a Paleontologist. He's not very fond of Thai food. Kevin is of Irish and Gaelic origin, and its meaning is "handsome beloved". Chris: Chris and Sean started playing together in 1997 in a band called Moo as Chris was finishing playing with another band called Paranoid Virus. He was looking for a change and after they met they soon started playing together. Due to circumstances beyond their control it didn't last but Chris and Sean would play off and on until Chris left to serve our country in the Army in 2000. After fighting in the Iraq war Chris returned home in 2005 and he and Sean again met up and started playing together, but this time in Wait Until Dusk. At that time the band was having trouble finding a bass player. That was until a fateful day in early 2006 when Sean and Chris were at DMS Studios talking to Arthur Scott Verner. Arthur, in casual conversation mentioned that Kevin may be available and suggested we give him a call. We did, and soon after Kevin was in the band. Chris loves to go skeet shooting in his spare time. He fingerpaints, and thinks kittens are cute. The name Chris is of Greek origin. Short form of Christopher and Christian. Cris is a Spanish form.
