Breathtakingly beautiful, passionate, and Spiritually-earthy soft rock that will make you worship, dance and cry tears of joy all at the same time--healing lyrics and music. 12 MP3 Songs POP: Delicate, EASY LISTENING: Soft Rock Details: Debbie's fans have put this virtually unknown Canadian songwriter and her second album "To Love and to Be Loved" into the top 5 of all Canadian Artist's CD's made or sold in 2005 already! "TO LOVE AND TO BE LOVED" Hope is blowing in the wind I think I'm gonna laugh again A new and glorious day is almost here My deepest fears are drowning fast My soul is feeling loved at last I am stronger than I was last year The power of this dream is changing me Somehow these tears of pain are healing me CHORUS Cause when the darkest clouds are pouring This storm grows life in me The forest of my soul is lush with heaven Even through the pounding pain And even if the end is near I'll keep dancing in the rain And smile at my fear For I have learned To love and to be loved is why I'm here ----- With nature's stirring imagery, the CD goes on to expose the healing beauty of the ancient Scriptures, reveal her most intimate conversations with God, and whispers the secret to her LIFE-giving energy in every track. One of her fans writes her reaction to the CD: "Wow! I weep, I laugh, I savour...these songs are passionate and beautiful! This is an awesome CD--THANK YOU!" So whether you're a nature lover, a God-worshipper, spiritually curious, a lover of poetry or passionate prayers, if you love to dance, or 'feel' the emotions behind good music, this CD is for you. It is the perfect gift for that friend or family member who has everything and wants nothing. The underlying powerful truth in every song on the disc isn't the result of an easy life, but of pain, hardship and lessons learned in the darkness. The joyful hope that she offers through her Scripturally-soaked love songs to God will change you as you listen... Debbie is a real, down-to-earth gal -- an ordinary wife and mother of three children whose journey has taken her to the highest mountains and the lowest of valleys in her 35 years. As you listen, you'll connect with her musical and spiritual journey... Debbie also travels throughout North America speaking to various women's groups about the life-changing power of hope in Christ that she sings and writes about. "To Love and to Be Loved" was produced by Chris Janz, eldest son of Canadian legend Paul Janz (the singer/songwriter of "Amazon Rain" and "Believe in Me"). Chris instantly recognized Debbie's gift, and offered many production and instrumental contributions to maximize Debbie's elegantly earthy music. Reknown worship guitarists Brian Thiessen (Brian Doerksen's band) and Johnny Markin (Northview Community Church) also grace several of the tracks with passionate, artistic contribution.
