A first class folkstress. Her visions come to life through her voice and guitar. With a lightness and depth in every tune, listeners will find absoluteness in this listening experience. 11 MP3 Songs FOLK: Gentle, FOLK: Modern Folk Details: Forget everything you know about the singer/songwriter genre. On PATCHWORK, 27-year old Draper gently swirls through eleven new songs of depth and sophistication far beyond her years. Producer Kramer (Urge Overkill, Galaxie 500, Low, King Missile) has woven a profound, sparse sound, placing Draper's evocative vocals right up front where they belong. Acoustic and bass guitar lines ebb and flow, while gentle drums and tickling piano provide irresistible intensity. The gossamer threads of sound compliment Draper's lyrics, which are lullaby-like in their warmth and directness. Linda Draper left a childhood in the church choir with deep impressions and striking recollections. Her teenaged and college years found her exploring music (performing at Renaissance Faires, attending a music conservatory) while searching for her own self- expression. On PATCHWORK, her quiet sense of accomplishment will zing straight to your soul, because it originates in hers.
