For nearly eight years he was part of the well known German acoustic duo Guitharmonie. With Guitharmonie he established his musical reputation far beyond Germany. He performed together with international top artists like Rafael Riqueni, Ismael Barambio, Peter Horton, the Gipsy Kings, and others. With Guitharmonie he released three CDs: "Echoes in the mirror" 1992, "Guitars on fire" 1994, and "Acoustic Expansion" 1998. His good reputation as composer particularly bases on these CDs. With typical Mediterranean lightness he presents many of his own compositions ranging from folk to the swing of Django Reinhardt and rumba of the Gipsy Kings. In the year 2000 Reimano became solo artist. "Music should touch people's soul and the most effective way to achieve this is through melody." Reimano's music and his new demanding program corresponds to this statement. He has added pop ballads and nice rhythmic songs by famous songwriters such as Eric Clapton, Carlos Santana, Sting, Mark Knopfler, Bruce Springsteen, Dido, and others. In 2001 he released his first CD: Reimano "Dream". Now in his new album: Reimano "Best of romantic songs" he comes very close to his motto. He selected the most beautiful romantic songs, added some of his own compositions, arranged perfectly sounding playbacks and by combining the songs with self-composed interludes, played on his exquisite Laplante guitar, he creates an atmosphere of harmony and emotion from the first second to the last. Nice examples: "Brothers in arms", "Aiysha", "Streets of Philadelphia". Surely this is Reimano's best CD. Just listen and relax. People who are interested in should consider this download.
