Val's performances have been described as "an inspiration, Valerie is an unsung hero (who sings!!)". The recipient of multiple grants and awards, including the Betances Center's Paul Ramos Award for Service to the Arts, Valerie has written music for film, dance and theatre as well as three CD's on her record label, West Street Records: "Unstoppable"; her father Emmanuel Ghent's "Songs for Children and All Their Friends"; and the acclaimed WTC benefit CD "We'll Carry On". Musician and recording engineer with Songwriter's Hall of Fame inductees Ashford Simpson since 1989, Val toured with Debbie Harry (Blondie) and has run the successful performing songwriter's night, The Songwriter's Beat, since she founded it in 2000. A volunteer at the WTC site for nine months after 9/11, Val co-founded the World Foundation for Music and Healing and its Feel the Music! program, which brings music and creative self-expression to children and families affected by trauma and loss. As photographer, over 500 of Valerie's photographs of martial arts master Gao Ji Wu are included in the 2007 book, "Essentials of Ba Gua Zhang". Co-composer for the critically acclaimed 2007 musical, Betty and the Belrays and composer for the sold-out The Hamlet Project (2002), Valerie has performed, toured, recorded with Ashford Simpson, Deborah Harry, Dr. Maya Angelou, Nina Simone, Billy Preston, TM Stevens, Defunkt, and many other artists.
