

Mp3 Charles Ellsworth Smith - Venitian Glass

DOWNLOAD HERE

You go down to the Adriatic Sea. You hear a bell buoy in the mist. A Glass Armonica sounds in the midst of strings 16 MP3 Songs in this album (43:18) ! Related styles: CLASSICAL: Impressionism, JAZZ: Chamber Jazz Details: Charles has composed in a number of different genres, jazz, classical, gospel, instrumental and has worked as a song writer at MRC music in New York as well as played with or opposite such diverse musicians as the Miles Davis rhythm section in studio, and Jimmy Hendrix and the Beach Boys on stage. This album is a result of many years of experimentation. It is the second of three albums in this eclectic style. Venitian Glass features the Glass Armonium an instrument invented by Benjamin Franklin. The music envisions a voyage to Venice. It begins as follows "You go down to the Adriatic Sea. You hear a bell buoy in the mist. You board a sailing vessel and journey peacefully to Venice. From a distance you see the Lighthouse at Murano." You will find this sound unique to your ears Please enjoy

DOWNLOAD HERE

Similar manuals:

MP3 In Color - In Color \(the Lamp Album\)