Details: Perhaps best known for "The Economonologue" on the nationally syndicated Bob and Tom radio show, Costaki's passion has always been the simple and pure beauty of stand up comedy. His humor has been described as smart, pointed, hip, sharp, insightful, socially relevant, and gut-laugh funny. A fellow comic once referred to Costaki as a casually brilliant joke philosopher. His take on such heavy subjects as the war on terrorism, religion, and gun control will leave you thinking and laughing. And his light swagger, playful squint, and wry smile tell you that perhaps theres more to this multi-layered joke than you first recognized.
