Details: "Erne, you have an extraordinary ability to hypnotize, at one with your guitar, it's so enchanting. A kite (l'Aquilone) that flies proud and sings about the warm strength of a long standing friendship. A reading of Baricco and the characters have life again in your song San Lorenzo. Rainy Day is a simple song, where you can find yourself behind a wet window watching the rain falling, immersed in the memories of the past or maybe in regret. This is what I need to be moved, little keepsakes of apparent and disarming simplicity. It seems to me that simplicity is one of the hardest things to find in this world." S.

"As a professional musician for over 20 years I have to say the first time I heard Erne's melodies, song structure, and harmonic sophistication I was stunned. She has become one of my favorite artists and her performances and grace are second to none." E.G. "I was at a loud party where everything stopped at once as soon as Irene began to sing. Her tender and piercing sound stays with you for good." E. "I can't believe you are singing about what I'm going through right now. Your show is an intense experience." J.M. "I was blown away by your voice; the soul and beauty of it... Your songs carried an elegance with a twist of Brazil. I heard the rhythms in my head while you played." T. "I didn't feel well today, my girlfriend dumped me. At one point you sang your song 'Fantasia' and it spoke to me so much, thank you. I found a lot of healing in your performance." D.R. "Your voice is completely beautiful! I was listening to your CD. How completely unique and powerful your voice is!!! Wonderful!" N.R. "Erne, I use your CD to release joy, an emotion that is so hard for me to feel. When you performed at Makor I had a feeling that I was part of a unique moment in history, your performance was outstanding..." C. "You've great ears and a voice that touches my soul. Your songs are dreamy poetry." T.K. Amidst the sounds of the coffee machine and the shaker of the bartender serving drinks to the crowd of fans that have shown up to hear Erne. The air is electric with excitement. Everyone waiting to experience the unique and absolutely pure voice of this exotic singer songwriter. From the moment she hits the stage all talking stops, except for the excited discussions between those who have seen her perform telling newcomers that they hope to hear their favorite songs. Instantly capturing the audience Erne performs a set of songs ranging in emotions from joy, self-affirmation, grief and introspection. Through song Erne brings the audience in, awakens their feelings hanging on to her every word. The miracle of the performance is that while Erne is singing a portion of the set in her native Italian the audience invariably understands the emotion she is expressing. While this may be expected in a cultural melting pot such as New York City, Erne has just as easily won over the audiences in Texas. After a successful tour they have whole-heartedly embraced her as one of their own. She continues to travel there to treat her fans. One Texan described her as..."Delightful and utterly enchanting"...
