Altruistic spiritual poetry readings laced with guitar, violin and bass, and guest artists in the spiritual new age and folk genre: Richard Knox, Lily Fraser, Charley Packard, Dan Tyler and Dave Weber. 16 MP3 Songs NEW AGE: New Age, FOLK: Folk Blues Details: Featuring readings of altruistic personal God spiritual poetry and a variety of stories about the human life and condition, all interwoven with bass, piano and violin. Guest artists are in the folk-new age genre: Richard Knox, Lily Fraser, Charley Packard, Dave Weber and Dan Tyler. Our piloting indwelling spirit of God can carry us through our mortal challenges to further adventures on a universal ascension path, one which can lead in a myriad of directions. New spiritual perspectives are explored in tracks that such as 'This Time Between' and 'Feet of Clay.' Hypocrites are blasted in 'People Do' and illusive, ever-expanding truth is studied in 'Truths of Several Kinds.' 'Heaven's Door' explores life among the homeless. The Great I Yam is an ode to the sweetpotato in epic doggerel. Talking blues tracks with a satirical bite take on the pending Apocalypse and fading World War III threat. Lethal college pranksters are challenged by the campus cops in the ribald 'Them That Done It Is Knowned.' We are hoping to cut through the webs of humankind's struggles with this 16-track CD and show a strong inner path to spiritual wisdom and grace.
