measureXmeasure is a pop/soul/r&b/jazz a cappella quintet who combines lush vocal harmonies, thumpin' vocal bass, and mind-blowing vocal percussion. 11 MP3 Songs POP: Power Pop, URBAN/R&B: R&B Pop Crossover Details: Hailed by critics as "a high-energy vocal phenomenon that'll simply knock your socks off!" (JazzBeat), measureXmeasure (measure by measure) is an a cappella sensation that proves the human voice is indeed the most versatile of all instruments. Despite what the listeners ears may tell them, mXm uses no drum machines, synthesizers, pre-recorded material or instruments of any kind. Every sound - whether it be soaring five-part vocal harmonies, jaw-dropping vocal bass, or astonishing beat-box vocal percussion - is produced live by the voices of these five young men. Originally formed in the mid-1990s as a student group at the University of Kansas, the Kansas City-based quintet now travels coast-to-coast year-round headlining concerts halls, festivals and college campuses everywhere. Employing elements of pop, rock, funk, soul, r&b, jazz and classical music, measureXmeasure takes the audience on a journey covering a broad range of musical landscapes and emotions. Its electrifying concerts are highlighted by sophisticated vocal arrangements, boundless energy, stylish choreography, and rousing audience participation. mXms original songs - ranging from contemplative ballads to roof-raising funk - are both thoughtful and accessible, while their carefully-selected cover songs are infused with the groups sense of flair, innovation, and originality. measureXmeasure has appeared with The Temptations; Nickelback; Earth, Wind Fire; the Beach Boys; Christopher Cross; Bela Fleck the Flecktones; the Gin Blossoms; Medeski, Martin Wood; and an enviable list of other stellar artists. Since the release of its second CD, "Were Back" in April of 2000, measureXmeasure has received regular radio play on specialty shows across four continents - resulting in a growing international fan base for the group. mXms August 2003 release, "On Our Own" has been called "one of the best weve heard..." (Singers.com) and is already being heard on college, public, and commercial radio stations across the U.S. measureXmeasure is also a strong advocate for music education. Since 1999, the band has been developing and presenting its "Get Vocal!" program, which seeks to raise awareness and support for school music programs, while teaching young people to use their voices as a means of artistic and emotional expression. Along with its performances and clinics for the Kansas Music Educators Association and the Kansas Choral Directors Association, mXm has had the privilege of delivering its message of perseverance, dedication, hard work and music appreciation to thousands of music students throughout the Midwest and across the country. In 2000, measureXmeasure was appointed to the performing artist touring roster of the Kansas Arts Commission, and in 2002 was selected as a touring artist for the Heartland Arts Fund. Among the groups many music industry accolades, mXm has been awarded showcases by the Rocky Mountain Fairs Association, the Performing Arts Exchange, Arts Northwest, and the Association for the Promotion of Campus Activities (APCA). measureXmeasure is Jeff Smith, Jon Stutler, Jason George, David Stutler, and Cardell Edwards.
