A compilation of musical satire for the 2004 election that will have you laughing, thinking, and highly impressed by a variety of musical styles and voice talents. 11 MP3 Songs POP: Party Pop, SPOKEN WORD: Comedy Details: Burt Kurt have been entertaining radio audiences for 30 years. They began their career together in Jackson, MS with stops in Tampa, Houston, and Birmingham, AL. Burt and Kurt have now made the transition to talk radio where they have brought their unique brand of talent, wit, satire, and insight to a highly successful show they call "The Center for Common Sense." The show airs weekdays on 101.1 FM and 1260 AM, The Source. John "Thunder" Byrd John "Thunder" Byrd is an incredible talent who plays a variety of musical instruments as well as a gifted singer. John has written and performed on many radio and television jingles heard throughout the U.S. Production Notes John Byrd's mastery of musical instruments, harmony, and voice characterizations are truly amazing. You'll hear the impressive range of his voice work from the hard rock "Vast Right-Wing Conspiracy" to the beach sound of "I'm a Bush Basher." Kurt Kilpatrick has long been known for his voice impressions. On the song "Teddy, The Endorcer" Kurt performs an impressive Waylon and Willie duet and even does his impression of Teddy Kennedy. On "Frankenkerry" Kurt does all of the character voices while John Byrd does the background vocals. Burt wrote all the songs and the bits on the CD. Burt also penned the music for "I'm a Bush Basher." The spirited disco-styled "Survival Revival" features new singing discovery, Glennis Richards. The CD includes a fold-out song sheet so everybody can sing along.
