Details: LOUISIANA WAY Richard Warren Rappaports Louisiana Way reflects a new style in adult contemporary pop, creating a vocal performance and poetic lyrics in a production specifically tailored for television. "Louisiana Way," begins softly as a classic ballad and builds into a driving delta blues beat. Originally engineered and mixed by the legendary producer Tom Dowd, the song was picked by film producers Ken Atchity and Orley Adelson to be in the music soundtrack of the CBS Television Movie of the Week, The Madams Family: The Truth About The Canal Street Brothel. It was then placed in consideration for an Emmy nomination for soundtrack music with the Academy of Television Arts Sciences. Louisiana Way was also engineered by Will Edwards at Sprockets Music and mastered by Mike Fuller at Fuller Sound. The song was produced by Richard Warren Rappaport, who performed it at fundraisers in Miami Beach in support of hurricane relief for the City of New Orleans. The release is on ATNYL/A Top New York Label. Richard Warren Rappaport is a BMI artist. Louisiana Way is heard on iStudioi Music and is available wherever digital music is found. Richard Warren Rappaports other recent releases include Sail Into The Sun, and Great Rock N Roll, also heard on iStudioi Music. "Sail Into The Sun" is an FMQB Top 20 Adult Contemporary hit, presenting a melodic and dramatic composition in a tropical style that speaks of endless time and enduring love. The song was first engineered by Mark Greenhouse, then re-engineered and mixed by Tom Dowd and mastered at Fuller Sound. It was co-produced by Richard Warren Rappaport and Howard J. Wiener, and is on ATNYL/A Top New York label. Great Rock N Roll is a musical fantasy about the world of pop, tracing its roots to traditional rock and R&B, and delivered in a fascinating contemporary style. Making its debut in Philadelphia, and distributed by Universal, Philadelphia, "Great Rock N Roll" received airplay in that city and throughout the Northeast. Also initially engineered by Mark Greenhouse, then re-engineered and mixed by Tom Dowd and mastered at Fuller Sound, "Great Rock N Roll" is the theme song for Rene Katzs "Hello Hollywood" television show, which premiered on WHDT-TV in West Palm Beach, and is now exclusively on iStudioi Television. Great Rock N Roll was produced by Richard Warren Rappaport and is on ATNYL/A Top New York Label. A member of the Los Angeles Chapter of The Recording Academy, the Academy of Television Arts Sciences, and the National Academy of Television Arts Sciences, Richard Warren Rappaport has been featured as a performer on television and radio, and at many special events and benefit concerts, including the prestigious Broward Center for the Performing Arts in Ft. Lauderdale, and the Steinway/BMI Music Arts Showcase in Miami.
