The male Indigo Girls and/or the contemporary Simon Garfunkel. AKA Chris Johnny 10 MP3 Songs
POP: Folk Pop, FOLK: Folk Pop Details: "Storyhill recalls the harmonious interplay of Simon Garfunkel; the pained, plaintive sound of Cat Stevens; and the acoustic juice of the Indigo Girls." -Billboard Storyhill was an acoustic duo made up of Chris Cunningham and Johnny Hermanson, two singer-songwriters originally from Bozeman, Montana. While the duo no longer performs together regularly, having broken up in 1997, their music lives on with listeners across the country. Soulful, personal lyrics combined with tight harmonies and intricate guitar arrangements define the Storhill sound. Live, they created a striking blend of traditional folk and a progressive attitude towards acoustic music. To date, the duo has sold over 40,000 copies of their 10 independently released CDs, still averaging over 100 CDs per month 5 years after their final show. The duo got back together for a pair of reunion shows in the summer of 2001. The performances were recorded, and the resulting 2-disc album, simply titled "Reunion," was released in the fall of 2001. Currently, both Chris and John are traveling down new musical paths. Chris is recording and performing as a solo singer-songwriter, and John is the lead singer in a power-pop band called Alva Star.
